Collision between the Military and Civil Authorities.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—MARSHAL GOODLEE, of the District of North Carolina, has reported to the Attorney-General that the process of the United States District Court, lately held by Chief Justice CHASE, is obstructed by order of Lieutenant-Colonel FRANK, commanding the Post of Wilmington. The ground is expressly mentioned in the order to be that in each of the cases obstructed the cause of action adjudicated upon by Judge CHASE accrued between September 19, 1860, and May 15, 1865. General SICKLES' Order No. 10 having forbidden judges to entertain any suits for matters occurring between these dates, the Marshal supposes that General SICKLES did not mean to include Courts of the United States. Col. FRANK interprets the order differently. Marshal GOODLEE has suspended action until he shall hear from Gen. SICKLES, or receive instructions from Washington, being anxious to avoid any collision. This matter is regarded as a very grave error, although the impression prevails that the commandant at Wilmington has acted without the knowledge of Gen. SICKLES, who is confidently expected to disapprove his action. GOODLEE's course has been approved at the Attorney-General's office, but no step will be taken until sufficient time shall have passed for report from the Commanding General.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—Admiral THORNTON, of the Austrian navy, and suite, who are en route to recover the body of MAXIMILIAN, have arrived here.

The order for the removal of SHERIDAN has not yet been received. It is said in circles usually well informed on public affairs, that Gen. THOMAS will supersede SHERIDAN; that HANCOCK will take the position now occupied by THOMAS; that SHERIDAN will be ordered to Lt. Gen. SHERMAN.

The Secretary of the Navy has received dispatches from Commodore BAX, commanding U. S. steamer Tacony, announcing his arrival at Pensacola, four days from Vera Cruz, where he left Admiral PALMER in his flag-ship, the Susquehanna.

SENOR DON JOSE LACRUZA, Prime Minister of the late MAXIMILIAN, and his Secretary, were passengers on the steamer Veracruz. SENOR DON JOSE LACRUZA reported his arrival at Vera Cruz on the 20th from Key West via Tampico. Everything is quiet there.

Lieut. Commander MAXWELL, commanding United States steamer Yankee, died on board his vessel in Tampico Bay, on the 19th July. He was buried in the Protestant burying ground at Tampico on the 20th, the authorities there honoring the occasion with military ceremonies.

The Austrian corvette Elisabeth was at Vera Cruz, awaiting the body of MAXIMILIAN. A French gunboat is also in port. No foreign representations are recognized by our own—other foreign Comodes having struck their flags. SANTA ANNA is at Campeche.

Judge PRENTISS, for the prosecution, commenced his address to the Jury in the SUBRATT case to-day, and occupied the entire day, and the probability is that he will not conclude his argument before Tuesday.

OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

ANXIETY ON THE TOPIC OF SHERIDAN'S REMOVAL.

WHEN WILL THE PRESIDENT ABOLISH THE ELECTION IN TENNESSEE TO-MORROW—GOOD ADVICE FROM AN OLD JOURNAL—GRANT AGAIN ON THE RACK—WILL HE BE NOMINATED—ETC., ETC.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—Every one who is on the eye now for the practical movement of the part of the President, with regard to the change in the military command of the Fifth District, which has been semi-officially announced as about to occur. The matter is a subject of every day conversation, and many are the speculations indulged in as to the ultimate result. The majority of those best informed as to the President's movements, assert positively that the order making the change will be issued this week, while others are equally emphatic in persisting that nothing will be done in the case, citing this as an instance similar to others in which the President has manifested his disposition to execute Great State movements, but which purpose he has often changed and again been persuaded by military men to change. We must wait and see what is to be done however in this case. There are thought to be many difficulties in the way, and some even hint that the President, by removing SHERIDAN, would be brought into an issue with both the Secretary of War and General GRANT. Certain it is that a new controversy would be opened with Congress. The Executive Department appears determined however, and developments may come to light in a short time hardly thought of now.

No little interest is expressed in official circles here in relation to the election which takes place in Tennessee to-day. If it is conducted without serious impediment, as fears of such an occurrence, well qualified by recent events at that unhappy State, have long been experienced. That election, and the meeting of the Republican Convention in Richmond, both on the same day, will be among the important events of this year's history. The authorities here will overlook affairs in Tennessee to-morrow by the lightning aid of the telegraph wires, and, if necessary, orders will flash from the headquarters of the General-in-Chief to the scene of difficulty, as in the old time of war. Every precaution has been taken, however, to prevent the election, and the presence of a good force of United States troops ought certainly to do so.

The National Intelligencer, of this morning, contains a very sensible and well-timed article on the subject of the disposition manifested by substantial and influential citizens in the South, to decline participation in the work of reconstruction as Congress proposes, which, for the real merit and good sense that is contained in it, should be read with no hasty glance. At the risk of duplicating a newspaper-article—as it may before this be published meet the readers of the News—I append to this paragraph a part of the editorial with the announcement that its warning and wisdom have received favorable comment from many true friends of the unrepresented States. It is as follows:

But such citizens might do well to remember that the present is an unnatural and temporary condition of affairs and that the time will soon come when the counsels will be required, and will be duly appreciated, and when their influence, both within their own States and with the General Government, will be greatly increased. Therefore, if there is an ill-advised feeling on their part to keep themselves in the background. They might at least show that they are ready to take the position of political affairs to which the voice of their fellow-citizens may at some early day call them. It would be exceedingly satisfactory to conservative men throughout the country to know that there is a force, powerful in talent and worth, existing in the South, that will be ever watchful and ready for the opportunity to do in the future what they have done in the past who now murmur it."

It need not be imagined that the wide talk about the certainty of the country having Gen. GRANT for the next Presidency, which now exists, has succeeded in getting a word out of that officer as to his views of the political situation, and that very silence will, more than anything else, prevent his nomination by a thorough Radical Convention.

It may be surely predicted that if General GRANT is nominated, it will be by a Convention in which conservative delegates will figure prominently. If he accepts the nomination—with regard to which it certainly does not appear that mortal man can assert clearly—he will be elected. How long must he be before the great soldier opens his mouth and tells the world where he stands on the great issues of the hour?

MR. MERRICK, one of the counsel for the defence in the SUBRATT trial, commenced his argument to the Jury this morning. It is remarkable for its boldness and power. As usual the Court room was crowded. More of the prisoner's friends were present than generally, as they were anxious to listen to the argument of Mr. MERRICK, who has no small reputation as an order of ability. Mr. THOMPSON will close for the prosecution.

The warm weather, which has really been intense for several days, has subsided, and pleasant days with nights cool enough for blanket coverings are welcome visitors. They bring very little news, however, as the town is comparatively deserted of its prominent denizens. The hotels show feeble registers lists, but the time is not far distant when life and activity will be here again in all its glory. The time is short for beginning to make preparations to receive Congress again.
